

LABOUR DAY

Children put on a captivating skit that depicted the significance of labor rights and the contributions of workers. The skit featured a scene showcasing different types of labours like plumber, sweeper, electrician, vegetable vendor, guard and milkman. They emphasized the essential nature of their work and the repercussions of their absence, even for just a day. Through compelling performances, the students effectively communicated the message that the labour force is the backbone of society and any disruption to their duties can have significant impacts on our daily lives. This portrayal underscored the importance of recognition and valuing the contribution of workers in all fields.
